СЛАВА ІСУСУ ХРИСТУ! GLORY TO JESUS CHRIST!

Dear Parishioners!

In many ways, life at our parish and my life as a priest is going on as usual.

Here at the parish - the prayers and services are continuing daily, the office is functioning, the finance team deals with the collections and the books, the perogy operation happened this past week (thank you to all the volunteers!). This coming week we are going to Fred Douglas Lodge for the Liturgy that the residents look forward to, etc. However, also in the background (and becoming a bit louder every day) is the voice that also tells us -- all of us - that some changes are on the horizon. Are they massive, revolutionary changes? Well, to that we might respond: "We should be so blessed!" However, in all likelihood we will take the changes calmly in stride. Our Blessed Virgin Mary Parish has been around for just over a century now and has seen many changes in the past: priests coming and going; waves of immigration, individuals and families coming and going. BVM has made it through the changes and will continue to do so as long as we keep our eyes on the goal. The goal, of course is a full thriving life in Christ as a parish family that strives to grow while also making sure that everyone who comes knows that he is welcome. Oh, there are teachings and rules of the faith and there are parish traditions as well, but those who come to us and are willing to understand this, should know that as they strive to "learn the ropes" they are not only tolerated, but are members of the family. That way, our parish will grow before our very eyes.

So, even after having said that which I know to be true, I will admit that I am experiencing moments of nostalgia and even heartbreak as I know that my days are becoming numbered. The comforts of parish events, like dinners or teas, and our fellowships. The peace and happiness at a daily or Sunday Divine Liturgy, well-prayed, when one senses that there are no spectators or rather-be-elsewheres, but where everyone knows that he is in the real presence of our God and our Lord is right there among us, loving us and blessing us. I will miss the members of parish council, and the many volunteers who do so much around the church and tend to our parish needs and our parish-related events. I will miss those who have stayed with their parish through thick and thin and who support their parish in ways that only they and the Lord (and perhaps one or two others) will ever know.

Can you miss a parish for things that haven't happened yet? Surely. I am a bit saddened that I will only hear from afar the news about the future success of BVM, and will no longer be directly involved in the efforts, the bold projects and new missions (except by my continuous prayer for BVM). However, as I look back over the recent two+ years that I have been here now and the 6+ years that I spent here at BVM "back in the day" as a newly-ordained priest, I am truly hopeful. The parishioners of this Parish have always had a great deal of potential. Among our numbers there is so much skill and talent. Some have said "not as much as we used to" or "Well, we're getting older now". True, but the goodwill and spirit of hope is still there. As new parishioners come in and are shown the ways and "trained" if you will and, especially shown that they are welcome, they will take up the torches and take up the reins of various operations within our parish.

This is a long message, but the point of the message is probably this: Please know that you will be in my prayer! Please keep me in your prayer, especially in these days leading up to my Episcopal Consecration ... and into the future. But... while we're still together, let us keep our parish moving forward as always. God is with us abundantly blessing us and, our Blessed Mother, our patroness, is watching over us and will protect us. If we ask her in prayer, she will obtain for us all the grace that we need from her Son for a great life and for our Salvation!

Fr. Michael

God bless our new Premier.
Keep him and his government
in your prayer!

Bishop Velychkovsky National Martyr's Shrine Volunteer Shrine Ministry

The Shrine and St. Joseph's Ukrainian Catholic Church is one of the few Churches in Winnipeg that is open daily for visitors. Keeping the doors open is possible because of those who generously offer their time, a few hours a month, as Shrine volunteers. We are very grateful to the community of Shrine volunteers. However, we could use more help.

We invite you to consider being a Shrine volunteer and an ambassador to welcome visitors, promote the cause of Blessed Vasyl Velychkovsky and spend time in prayer. If you are interested in this ministry experience or for more information contact Lesia Sianchuk at the Shrine office at 204-338-7321 or email: info@bvmartyrshrine.com

Please pray for the sick and shut-in members of our Blessed Virgin Mary parish, and be in touch with them when you can (cards, short telephone conversations, visits).

CHRIST PURSUES US TO THE FAR ENDS OF THE WORLD WITH HIS LOVE!

Father John A. O'Brien tells a soul-touching story of something that happened when he stopped off in Cairo, Egypt, on returning from the Holy Land in the early 1950s.

“One evening a white-robed Egyptian boy came to the Rectory with the message that an American was dying and calling for a priest. I was delegated to bring the last sacraments to the dying man. It was in a little room above a cheap cafe in the slum section of the city that I found the patient. He had been for many years a soldier of fortune, sailing on a trading vessel in the Indian sea. He was now in the last stages of that fatal malady of Egypt, the black fever. His face was emaciated and wan.

After I had heard his confession and given him Holy Communion, he said: “Father, I have been worried for weeks at the thought of dying here in this out-of-the-way corner of the world, friendless and alone, until I became almost delirious. But now,” he continued, with tears in his eyes, “it doesn’t matter. For I know I’ll meet them all again. For Christ toiled to bring me safely home.” Before I left, he said: “Isn’t it wonderful, Father, to think that I have received the same Christ here in Africa that I received when I made my first Holy Communion twenty years ago in San Jose in Southern California?”

I went out into the dark crooked streets of the ancient city. There on the hill overlooking the city loomed up the rock-ribbed citadel built by Napoleon in conquering the city. Over in the East rose up under the pale light of the moon, the sphinx of Egypt and the great pyramids of Ghizeh, erected by the Pharaohs over five thousand years ago. Their vast armies have now been sleeping for fifty centuries beneath the sands of the Sahara. Along the streets loomed up into the night the figures of the mosques of Mohammed. The words of the dying man came back to me. San Jose, California, and Cairo, Egypt, stood suddenly side by side! The chasm of the centuries was spanned. The intervening stretch of eight thousand miles across land and sea was annihilated by the power of the Divine love that knows no limitations of time or space, “border, nor breed nor race.”

Truly Indeed is the Holy Eucharist the golden bond by which an Omnipotent Being unites Himself With His children on earth and gives to them a fore-taste of that ineffable union.”

excerpt from “The Faith of Millions” by Fr. John A. O'Brien

We Are Proud of our Catholic Heritage... and our Martyrs:

We are Canadians, and as such should learn to love those holy people who lived and perhaps died on Canadian soil. There is the Martyrs' Shrine in Ontario that honours many of the first Catholic clergy who came to Canada to teach the indigenous and the early French settlers about Jesus.

You know that. BUT... here are some things you perhaps didn't know:

1. St. Isaac Jogues (pictured on the left on a door of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York!) is counted as one of the Canadian Martyrs, but he with his fellow Jesuits moved freely between the two countries at that time. New York claims him as its very first priest!

2. Many paintings/statues of St. Isaac Jogues show him with some fingers missing. When Mohawks had caught some of his brother priests, Jogues tried to slip into the "prison" to comfort them. He was caught as well (as we say wryly, "no good deed goes unpunished") and now he, too, was tortured with beatings, then had his fingernails torn out, then the Mohawks chewed his fingers to the bone. One imprisoned Algonquin woman apparently tried to gain favour from the Mohawks by chopping off Jogues' thumb.

3. Priests (at that time) were forbidden to say Mass if unable to hold the Blessed Sacrament between thumb and forefinger. What now, for Father Jogues?... was that the end of celebrating Mass? Only a priest can understand this mental torture, and now he was tortured physically as well for a year, dragged around like a trophy wherever the Mohawks went. Finally, some sympathetic men helped him to escape, and got him onto a ship back to France. Once there, he wrote for and obtained special permission from the Pope (Urban VIII) to say Mass with his mutilated hand. The Pope was happy to give him this permission, considering him a "living martyr" already.

4. So what did Father Jogues do? Stay in France and die a peaceful death? No... he went right back to Canada/USA ("New France") in 1644, knowing that he would probably die a martyr's death... and actually eager for this to happen! The Mohawks were by now quite wary of the Jesuits -- and all newcomers -- believing that they were responsible for the new infectious diseases, and even crop failure, happening at the time. In 1646, on Oct. 18, he was beheaded with a tomahawk.

5. Guess what happened to his killer! The Mohawk who actually decapitated Father Jogues was captured later by some natives who were sympathetic to the French. This man was thrown into jail, and sentenced to death. While on death row, he asked to be baptized! and guess what name he chose as his new Christian name? "Isaac Jogues"!

TODAY IS

WORLD VOCATIONS DAY!

Pray for all bishops, priests, brothers, sisters. They need so many more prayers, so that they can stay good, improve themselves, and then help others improve.

Set a goal: how many men and women will you approach to ask them if they have considered trying out the seminary/convent? So many do not even consider it, simply because they have never been asked by another human. It's usually not enough to read about it; they have to hear it from another living person like you and me. The power of the spoken word is ... powerful!

Powerful Prayer for a Happy Death

by St. Pompilio

On my journey toward eternity, dear Lord,
I am surrounded by powerful enemies of my soul.
I live in fear and trembling,
especially at the thought of the hour of death,
on which my eternity will depend,
and of the fearful struggle that the devil will then have
to wage against me,
knowing that little time is left for him
to accomplish my eternal ruin.
I desire, therefore, O Lord,
to prepare myself for it from this hour,
by offering you now, in view of my last hour,
my profession of faith and love for you,
which is so effectual in rendering useless
all the crafty and wicked schemes of the enemy and which I resolve to oppose to him at that moment of such grave consequence,
even though he should dare alone
to attack with his deceits
the peace and tranquility of my spirit.

I, _____ (name) _____

in the presence of the Most Holy Trinity,
the blessed Virgin Mary,
my holy Guardian Angel
and the entire heavenly host,
affirm that I wish to live and die
under the standard of the Holy Cross.

I firmly believe everything that our Holy Mother,
the Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church,
believes and teaches.

It is my steadfast intention to die in this holy faith,
in which all the holy martyrs, confessors and virgins of Christ have died,
as well as all those who have saved their souls.

If the devil should tempt me to despair
because of my many and terrible sins,
I affirm that from this day forth

I firmly hope in the infinite mercy of God,
which will not let itself be overcome by my sins,
and in the Precious Blood of Jesus
which has washed all my sins away.

If the devil should tempt me to presumption
by reason of the small amount of good which by the help of God

I may have been able to accomplish,
I confess from this day forth
that I deserve eternal separation from God
a thousand times by my sins
and I entrust myself entirely
to the infinite goodness of God,
through whose grace alone I am what I am.

Finally, if the evil spirit should suggest to me that the pains inflicted upon me by our Lord
in that last hour of my life
are too heavy to bear,
I affirm now that all will be as nothing
compared to the punishments I have deserved throughout life.

In the bitterness of my soul
I call to remembrance all my years;
I see my iniquities, I confess them and detest them.
Ashamed and sorrowful I turn to you,
my God, my Creator and my Redeemer.
Forgive me, O Lord,
forgive your servant whom you have redeemed by your Precious Blood.

Jesus, my Lord, into Your hands I commend my spirit!
May the Blessed Virgin Mary and my Guardian Angel
accompany my soul into heaven. AMEN.

Major Historic Art Publication and the Connection with our Blessed Virgin Mary Parish!

When I was in Ukraine in mid-September, I spent most of the 5 days in the city of Lviv. I was able to meet several people with whom I had become acquainted over the 10 years that I spent there. One such person heard I was in town and gave me a call, asking me to meet at her place of work, the Andrew Sheptytsky National Museum of Art which is located right on Freedom Boulevard in the midst of theatres, the 'Vernissage' cultural market and other historic landmarks. Dr. Olesia Semchyshyn-Huzner [1] is an art expert who specializes in 19th and 20th century Ukrainian Art. One of the most famous modern Ukrainian artists is Modest Sosenko 1875-1920. Professor Semchyshyn-Huzner has dedicated her latest research to the person of Modest Sosenko and his influence on art in Ukraine - both religious and secular. She is surely the leading expert on the life and legacy of Sosenko and has recently published two huge volumes of her research. One is about his life and work [2] and the other is an actual 'catalogue of his works' [3]. She wanted our Blessed Virgin Mary Parish to have copies of these works, because of the help that the parish gave her in researching one of the rare Sosenko works that is found outside of Ukraine - our beautiful, unique icon of the Protection of the Mother of God that we have enshrined in our church [4]! In the books (now located in our parish office) the author acknowledges our parish and mentions two of our favourite priests - Fr. Volodymyr Bashutsky and Fr. Michael Kwiatkowski - for providing her with pictures of Modest Sosenko's Icons in our church and what is probably a print (albeit one of high quality) of an icon of Hieromartyr St. Josaphat in another Manitoba church.

Among the pages of history as to how one of Sosenko's Marian icons came to be at our church, the author writes, "The Icon of the Protection of the Theotokos may have been executed upon the request of [Blessed] Nykyta Budka around the autumn of 1912. Being assigned to go for a long period of time across the ocean, the newly-appointed bishop likely wanted to have with him an image of the Mother of God - the Protectress, a devotion that signified intercession, protection and defense. Accordingly, we can presume that, with the assistance of Metropolitan A. Sheptytsky, Bishop N. Budka commissioned an icon of the Protection of the Theotokos by Sosenko and brought it with him to Canada."

Professor Semchyshyn-Huzner wrote a note with the books [6], "(to the) Church of the Protection of the Most Holy Mother of God UGCC in Winnipeg - with gratitude for the collaboration!"

P.S. You will notice a draft for a stained glass window [5], designed for the Church of the Protection of the Mother of God in the city of Lviv... has an image of the Mary the Protectress that is very similar to ours! Was Sosenko experimenting with this style at the time? Was this stained glass window actually made and installed? This is an opportunity for some research of our own!

When you get a chance, step into our Parish Office and take a look at the two large volumes of over 700 pages in total. They are written in Ukrainian, but even if Ukrainian is not your forte at present... like they say, "a picture is worth a thousand words" in what ever language you prefer.
